Statement regarding the Participation of KIOXIA Europe GmbH at Embedded World 2020

February 2020, Düsseldorf, Germany – KIOXIA Europe GmbH, the world leader in memory solutions, today announced that it has taken the difficult decision to withdraw from the embedded world 2020 exhibition, planned for the 25th – 27th February. Having reviewed the developments around the coronavirus (COVID-19), and reflecting upon existing internal steps taken to limit exposure and minimize risk to our staff, partners, and communities, this outcome has been deemed to be the optimal approach under the circumstances.

For those who planned to visit KIOXIA's stand at Embedded world and to review its product line-up in the Raw Flash and Managed Memory segments, XFMEXPRESS™, or SSDs (solid state drives), alternative arrangements can be made via KIOXIA's existing channel partners, company representatives or via the company's Contact us webpage.

We thank the NürnbergMesse GmbH for their understanding and look forward to attending embedded world 2021.
